

Revolution Capital Management

Revolution Capital Management (RCM) utilizes systematic and quantitative investment trading to manage its portfolios. The firm focuses on using rigorous statistical analysis that is applied to all aspects of research, development, and operations. Michael Mundt and Rob Olson are the firm's head of investments, and both have engineering backgrounds. The firm's automation and technology are critical enablers for achieving superior risk-adjusted returns. The firm manages three programs: Alpha, Mosaic Institutional, and Talon. The AAF invests in the Talon program which is currently closed to new investors. The firm was founded in 2004 and has been trading short-term investment programs for more than 15 years. RCM manages approximately $600 million across its full product suite.

Revolution Capital Management is a Commodity Trading Advisor in partnership with Attainable Alpha, LLC.

